It's moving day, and Cassie is helping her grandparents, Gigi and Pop Pop, sort through the attic. Inspired, Cassie weaves her own tales, transforming the attic into magical worlds while Gigi and Pop Pop join in, sharing laughter and memories stitched into every quilt. Together, they create one final quilt, tying old and new threads into a tapestry of love. Rhythm & Thread celebrates family, imagination, and the beauty of storytelling through the art of quilting.

HELPING HANDS

The inaugural project of the Alliance Theatre & TYA/USA TVY Development Program

Daily at 9:30 AM, 11 AM, & 12:30 PM

Rehearsal Hall B, 3rd floor, Memorial Arts Building
Check in at WASSERMAN EARLY LEARNING CENTER

Run Time: 35 minutes

Two friends disturb a resting trash spirit and hijinks ensue. Flomo, a very determined clown, seeks a place to rest while Peepa, their spirited and playful counterpart, is ready to play. This initial conflict causes them to awake and upset the spirit resting nearby, but just throwing their trash away doesn't solve things. However, through experimentation, Peepa, Flomo, and the spirit find that they can do more than they imagined with the things they initially considered trash. With each new idea, they bring audiences along on a journey to upcycle, create, and ultimately, enjoy the items we typically throw away. Each family will have the chance to consider: what can I do with my helping hands? How can we reduce our waste and create something exciting for ourselves or our communities along the way?
